

Safety and Security

How do we ensure all aspects of our work are safe and secure?

- SRS employees leverage our unique nuclear safety and security culture in every aspect of our work. Safety culture and Safety Conscious Work Environment (SCWE) are implemented through Integrated Safety Management, focusing on three safety focus areas: leadership, employee engagement and organizational learning. SRS uses Behavior Based Safety, the Voluntary Protection Program and Human Performance Improvement to assist in the implementation of safety culture and SCWE.
- We hold ourselves accountable for our own safety and security, as well as that of our coworkers, our environment, our community and our nation.
- SRS employees are free to raise safety and security concerns to management without fear of retaliation.
- Our mantra, “Safety and Security begin with me,” serves as our moral compass.
- Our slogan is more than just a phrase; it is the code by which we operate.
