Deer Control Activities

Information Cesium-137

SRS monitors cesium levels in the environment and in all hogs/deer/coyotes released:

- Cesium is a radioactive element that exists in the earth's environment from historical atmospheric nuclear testing
- Some past SRS operations have resulted in small cesium releases to the environment

SRS monitors all animals for Cesium-137 content. Dose to hunters is tracked and animals will not be released that could cause you to exceed the conservative SRS limit. Cesium is a radioactive substance.

- In the history of SRS hunts, only one deer has ever failed to meet conservative release limits.
